Gathering of Information on American Indian/ Alaska Native Health Disparities

Project Title	Gathering of Information on American Indian/ Alaska Native Health Disparities
C.IIIWWWORL	This project aims to collect, synthesize and summarize public health and research information addressing health disparities in American Indian/Alaska Native populations to guide and support the division's research priorities.
Country	United States

Project Description

The Division of Epidemiology and Disease Prevention (DEDP) at the Indian Health Service (IHS) is interested in collecting and recording publicly available information in scientific and gray literature (such as manuscripts, abstracts, presentations) addressing a variety of topics around health disparities among the American Indian/Alaska Native population. The intern will work to conduct literature reviews and catalogue these resources. The intern will import this information in a database, summarize the information and create a presentation describing the information identified. The intern could also support other division projects including supporting and coordinating the creation of division newsletters, creating infographics, toolkits and supporting disease specific workgroup meetings. Topic areas might include immunizations, sexually transmitted infections including HIV, Covid pandemic response.

Required Skills or Interests

SKIII(S)
Analytical writing
Data analysis
Data visualization
Design thinking
Editing and proofreading
Graphic design
Infographic design
Research
Writing

CI/:II/a\

Additional Information

Access to scientific literature is required. Experience with Access database or other database applications is a plus but not necessary.

Language Requirements

None